English At Large Receives $5,000 Grant Award from the Corning Incorporated Foundation

English At Large (EAL) is pleased to announce receipt of a $5,000 charitable grant from the Corning Incorporated Foundation, awarded as general operating support to sustain the organization's free, volunteer-delivered, high-quality instructional programs for local immigrants.

This grant will help English learners in 24 Greater Boston communities gain greater understanding of English language and U.S. culture, to support them as they work to achieve their life goals. English At Large programs include One-to-One Tutoring, Conversation Groups, the Career Access Lab and Beginner English Programs.

“We are thrilled to receive this first-ever funding from the Corning Incorporated Foundation, to support our shared commitment to volunteerism and strong, welcoming communities”, states EAL Executive Director Maureen Willis. “This generous investment will support educational services that are life-changing for our learners. We are proud and grateful to partner with the Corning Incorporated Foundation in service to our immigrant neighbors and friends.”
