

ENGLISHATLARGE

Greetings!

Happy Valentine's Day! I hope you have an opportunity today and everyday to show someone how much you care.

English At Large volunteers, more than 225 in the past year, do just that - sharing their time, skills and talents with their learners, helping them reach their goals and making them feel welcome and valued in their community. That is love!

We recently hosted a Volunteer Appreciation event during which we read tributes to those in attendance written by the staff, to honor their service and contributions to our mission. Read the tributes here.

Feeling inspired to show how much you care? It couldn't be easier!

The EAL Annual Online Auction opens next week for bidding, but you can preview the auction today! Bookmark this link to preview the catalog and get ready to bid high for local programs!

Winchester Savings Bank has included EAL in their community giving program. To vote for us - and increase our share of the $2,000 donation pot - click here! (You don't have to be a customer to vote!)

Thank you for your caring support and continued interest in English At Large.

Best regards,
Maureen

We Love Our Volunteers!

English At Large recently held an event to honor and thank our volunteers for their dedication and service. Hosted at the Woburn Public Library, our esteemed guests feasted on pizza donated by Flatbread of Bedford and Sweet Indulgences provided by Seasons 52 Burlington, and had the opportunity to meet other volunteers from across our service area. For the program, staff staged an English At Large Volunteer Awards ceremony, stating that "EAL volunteers deserve to be recognized just as much if not more than any actor or musician". Here are the short tributes, written by EAL staff, to those volunteers who joined us for this special event in their honor.
