

Dear English,

Happy New Year! I hope you are healthy and well.

If the dark and cold days of January have got you down, I hope this newsletter makes things brighter. There is so much good happening, thanks to your support!

New and returning programs launching this month include a Beginner English Class in Acton, and CAL, our Career Access Lab! We are able to offer these programs through the commitment of our partners, including the Acton Memorial Library and MIRA, which sponsors the NAIP AmeriCorps Program. Read on to meet the people behind the programs!

Other program news to note:

- Beginner English Classes will resume in Medford, at Tufts University
- Conversation Groups are currently enrolling, with 19 groups to launch in just a few weeks
- A new class of volunteer tutors will soon begin their training, to be matched with a local learner from our waitlist beginning in March

All of this is made possible by the dedication of our volunteers, the commitment of our community partners, and the generosity of our donors.

We are grateful to have you as part of this caring community, one that makes a difference for hundreds of local adult learners every year.

Thank you for your continued support of English At Large.

Here's to brighter days!

Best regards,

Maureen

Acton Beginner English Class

We are excited to begin offering a Beginner English Class in Acton!

This in-person program meets twice each week at the Acton Memorial Library. Enrolled learners will benefit from a full year of instruction, delivered by local volunteers using an EAL developed curriculum.

Special thanks to our volunteer team, for their dedication to helping their immigrant neighbors and friends!
